

2007
GRENACHE
Instinctual

In the state of nature, instinct becomes paramount. Reflex takes over, a sense of euphoria rises as the hunt is forebode. The drive for the reckoning has never been more visceral. To the victor, come the spoils.

This Grenache and Syrah blend an ideal representation of the great wines of the Priorat region in Northeastern Spain. Hints of licorice and leather herald a raspberry mouthfeel with clove and black pepper finish. This wine showcases deep red tones with up front tannins for immediate satisfaction. Huge aromatics make the 2007 Grenache a crowd pleaser that is perfectly paired with any occasion and cuisine. Cheers!
